HOW SOON WE FORGET

. . . Dear Fellow American: Your new president, Gerald R. Ford, spoke this week asking amnesty for draft dodgers and deserters.

We heard his voice all the way over here in Vietnam, and it made us turn our graves. Though our voices have long been silenced by death in that war these deserters didn't want, we would hope that you, the public, can hear our thoughts.

Take Steve, for instance:

He was 22 and in love with beautiful Sandra when his country called. He did not want to go. The mere thought of leaving his home, his job, his future with Sandra tore him apart. But he came. And he fought. And he died in a foxhole in a rotten jungle. His Sandra weeps alone, for no one can grant him life to return to her.

Hear Jake, a married man from

Jake hated to leave his wife, Mona, and their two children, little Jake, 4, and Lisa, 3. But when he chose the Army as a career they knew duty to his country would come before them. Jake's patrol went out on a rainy night, one man short. They were zapped along the trail and Jake fell riddled by bullets. Now the tears shed at home are in vain. He can never return. No one can give him amnesty.

Listen to Jim:

He longed to be back home and have an opportunity to run around with the gang again. He

Other than leaving the situation "status quo" the Council could: Appoint a new mayor, or call for a special election for a mayor.

If they appointed Pedroza, that would leave his Council seat open and they could appoint someone to fill it, or they can leave it vacant until the April elections. Pedroza has more than a year to

If past history can be an indicator, just about everyone will have fun at Saturday night's Hondo World Champion Corn Shucking contest. And that includes the losers.

No one has made any boasts about beating defending champion Mrs. Lillie Heyen in the women's division. But there'll be plenty on hand to try. They did last year at the Folklife Festival and at the AstroHall in Houston, but none succeeded.

Four divisions are included in the local show this year. Officials added two divisions for the younger people. There will be one for 9-years and under, and one for 10-11-12-year-olds. On Sunday this ordinarily peaceful and quiet little Alsatian village of around 1,800 inhabitants will swell to about eight or 10 times its normal size as folks from far and near come to enjoy the celebration held annually in pecan tree shaded Koenig Park on the banks of the meandering Medina River.

Exactly 92 years ago the first small parish picnic was held in Castroville and the famed festival has grown enormously in size and popularity. It presently attracts between 15,000 and 20,000 visitors, truly earning the title, "Homecoming for the state of Texas," bestowed on it recently by the Texas Tourist Agency. Last year guests represent-

It takes a small forest of seasoned mesquite wood to furnish the fire for 100 foot pits used to barbecue 4,700 pounds of boneless prime beef, and 4,000 pounds of Alsatian-flavored sausage. And there will be tons of potato salad, cole slaw and ranch style beans.

Advance meal tickets are still only $2.00 each. And after the feast everyone can have a wonderful time at many booths manned just for that purpose, such as country store, doll booth, apron booth, fine linen booth, arts and crafts corner, the giant auction, the dunking machine and kiddy rides of all kinds.

Those who like the taste of German Soda Water will love the new attraction, the German Beer Garden in Koenig Park Hall. It will feature "oom-pa-pa" music and sing-along Alsatian style songs.

I cannot in the wildest imagination see where the public has to put up with such action. I don't care what the new Family Code says.

In fact, I think the parents of any youngster -- and I don't care if he is black, brown, white or the poorest, the richest, the least influential or the most influential - should be required to be answerable to the law. Let the parent pay the fine or do time in jail and they might take more interest in what their kids are

That youngster that was hit Saturday night has just as much right to attend an event without being afraid of being intimidated as those who are doing the intimidating.

This is a problem for all adults, parents or not. Anyone who has any influence on any group of young people should exert that influence in an effort to stop these types of actions before someone really gets hurt.

I don't really believe the boy who threw that piece of ice wanted to injure that young boy, but he did. And it could have been worse. This is what these youngsters must be told; and the only ones who can tell them are their so called leaders or peers.

And one thing these leaders or peers should bear in mind -- unless it is stopped, it could be your child, your sister, your brother, your mother, your father or someone else in your family who could be hit by whatever is thrown the next time -- for a thrown missile has no eyes, it hits the first person in the way.

Many Vietnam Era veterans are unaware of their, General, U. S. Army entitlement to back pay, for active military service between October 1, 1972, and January 1, 1973. Military personnel still on active duty will receive the pay automatically, while the veteran whose active duty terminated after October 1, 1972, will have to apply for the pay, according to Lawrence A. Rothe, Veterans Service Officer for Medina County.

Veterans should make out a back pay claim -- a short letter is all that is necessary. It should include name, Social Security number, military service number if one was assigned, rank, current mailing address, date separated from service, and duty station between October 1, 1972, and January 1, 1973. A welcome sight it was, speaking of the return of the ANVIL HERALD RAIN MAP, courtesy the Taylor-Chapman Service, as charted August 8th.

Amounts reported registered from 1.30 to as much as 6.50 inches and every precious drop must have merited a round of Glory Hallelujahs. Those from Utopia, where the 6.50 inches fell, probably reverberated the loudest and

And, I thought I might have heard Doc Taylor's I-told-you-so shouts of gratitude all the way from Rancho Chico to our front and back lawns which as of that date were as dry as a funny story too often retold.

Maybe Medina County set a good example for, on the day my AH arrived along came a measurable rain and were we ever glad!

The picture of JIM JENKENS, which accompanied an ad announcing his promotion to State Sales Manager for a livestock feed company, showed him wearing the same wide grin which seems so typical of him.

Could be this might have had something to do with that promotion. Maybe Jim follows the advice in the old song: "What's the use of worrying/ It never was worth while/ So, pack up your troubles in your old kit-bag/ And smile, smile, smile!"

Remains are all that remain of Tyrannosaurus rex, the last and largest of meat eaters of his time. He was almost 18 feet tall, 50 feet long and is reported to have weighed eight [8] tons, give or take a few ounces.

Think of the hamburger, with or without "filler" it would have taken to have appeased his appetite and kept him from crying at bedtime, "Mommy, I'm still hungry!"

Here are some original definitions of HAPPINESS, as it means to some eighth graders in a Kansas Junior High School: "Happiness is going to Kansas City and not having to write about what happiness means . . . Happiness is when my Dad and I go fishing together . . . Happiness is wearing cowboy boots that fit . . . Happiness is being so busy that I don't have time to think of being unhappy . . . Happiness is just being young, I guess." Just being young . . . hmmm . . . might have something

With the changing whims of some of our legislators and their legislation, I have lost track of some of our traditional holidays. I read, in the NAVAL AFFAIRS MAGAZINE, June '74, that "Texas is not among the 40 states which have now enacted legislation to change Veteran's Day observance from the fourth Monday in October back to the original November 11th where it has rightfully belonged ever since 1918."

The day remains fixed in my memory as Nov. 11, 1918, and designated as Armistice Day.

Hunza is a Pakistani principality, inhabited by about 30,000 people who speak a language called Brusheski.

A visiting journalist describes it as "probably the closest place there is to Shangrila." No crime, no jail, no police, no politics and the natives consider themselves still young at 80 or 90.

The reigning monarch is called a MIR. An ex-Mir, who has two wives and two daughters, is reported to be looking for a third wife. "For son purposes, sir," he explained to the visitor. ***

. . and then the phone rang - just as I had inserted a sheet of paper in the typewriter.

It was a pleasant interruption and I had an enjoyable visit with FANNIE JEAN BRITSCH. Our friendship dates back to her little girlhood, when she lived in SA where her mother taught piano and my son was among her

Fannie Jean brought news of Hondoans and of her own family. She had been visiting son John and his wife who are teaching in Pettus and whom she had been visiting for a few days. She was spending this day with relatives here so there was no time for a personal call but we kept the line busy for some time "catching up."

This happened in Hondo 64 years ago [1910] but, as the story reported "the memory lingered on"

"It was reported this week that A. KEMPF found a polecat in his bathroom early Friday morning. Kempf promptly dispatched the intruder with a target rifle, but the memory lingered on and on, more offensively pungent than pleasant."

Another item from the ANVIL HERALD'S 1910 files: "The total mileage of public roads in Texas in 1910 was 141,101 miles. Average width was 50 feet. At the time of the survey, ten counties with the longest mileage of public highways, surfaced with stone and gravel and then in good condition, figured to a total of 4,652 miles. I tried to find out the state's present total mileage. The Texas Almanac was no help [index or otherwise], or else I didn't know where or how to look. So, I called the local State Highway Dept. and was told it might take a while to obtain the information! [How I miss the coperation of Hondo's Chuck Hackebeil when I needed information on Texas highways!]

Next best thing, by way o comparison, was to give this information, gleaned from "STATE DOLLAR - HOW

For the fiscal year, ended Aug. 31, 1972, as reported by the State Comptroller of public accounts, highway maintenance and construction, totaled $605,221,953.

This leads me to believe that our roads have come a long way and covered many more miles than the 141,101 mile total, 50 feet wide, that we had in 1910.

Power of deduction, Watson!

The way Frank Tanana figures it, he leads the American League in homers. The California Angels' pitcher happens to be wrong but at least he jokes about it, although it is doubtful if he really enjoys the situation. Tanana has allowed 11 homers this season. He was reminded that Reggie Jackson of the Oakland Athletics tops the League because he has hit 12. "At least I'm close," is the way Tanana puts it.

Presented by Hondo, Texas See us first for exceptional values for the entire family. Floresville for another scrimmage next week. In fact, I imagine we have a lot of changing around to do before the first whistle blows to open the season.'

Coach Howard said the squad has had some good workouts so far. "We still have a long way to go before we can play a game,' he pointed out. "But that's to be expected at this time of the year."

"The enthusiasm has been very good and our conditioning is about where we would expect it to be for eht length of time we've had to work out. But we'll need to have lots more

He said thse scrimmages will help. "They'll tell us a lot," he said. "In fact, Southwest, under coach Jerry Zabava will probably run the Wishbone at us on offense and a 26 defense. We don't know anything about their personnel but we'll find out Friday night."

Tentatively for Friday night Coach Howard sees the Owls going into the scrimmage this way:

Offensively: Backfield --Bobby Rios, quarterback; Paul Pope, Tony Hackebeil and Richard Coronado, backs; Ends -- George Loera, split end, Mike
